

WHAT DOES JD BANK DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

WHY? Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law give consumers the right to limit some, but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

WHAT? The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and account balances
- account transactions and checking account information
- credit history and overdraft history

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

HOW? All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons JD Bank chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

WHAT WE DO

How does JD Bank protect my personal information? To protect your information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does JD Bank collect my personal information? We collect your personal information, for example when you

- apply for a loan or open an account
- make deposits or withdrawals from your account or provide account information
- give us your contact information

We also protect personal information from other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing? Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

DEFINITIONS

Affiliates. Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Our affiliates include financial companies such as JD Bancshares, Inc.

Nonaffiliates. Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- JD Bank does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you.

Joint Marketing. A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- Our joint marketing partners include deposit product providers (i.e. fraud protection providers).

COLLECTED INFORMATION

We may collect information regarding your mobile device such as device settings, unique device identifiers, information about your location, and analytical information that may assist with diagnostics and performance. For your convenience, you may be asked to grant permission for access to your mobile device's geolocation data. This information may be collected when you use certain services that are dependent on your mobile device's location (such as the location of an ATM or in store transactions).
